5. Using your information in accordance with data protection laws

Data protection laws require that we meet certain legal grounds and that we explain to you the reasons why we have met those legal grounds before we are allowed to use your personal data as set out in this fair processing notice. Here are the legal grounds that are relevant to us (more than one ground may be relevant to each processing):

a) Contract

We are permitted to hold and process this information because it is necessary to do so in order for us to provide your loan in accordance with its terms and to process any application for a loan. Without your information we cannot provide you with a loan.

b) Legitimate Interests

We also rely on a condition known as "legitimate interests". It is in our legitimate interests to collect your personal data as it provides us with the information that we need to administer your loan. We will always ensure that we keep the amount of data collected and the extent of any processing to the absolute minimum to meet this legitimate interest.

c) Consent

Where you have provided your consent, we also rely on your consent to use your personal data in certain ways (for example, in some circumstances to market our products and services to you).

d) Legal obligation

Where there is a legal requirement upon us to record, retain or share your personal data with authorities, we must do so. For example to comply with laws and regulations which govern our business, such as the Financial Services and Markets Act 2000 and the Proceeds of Crime Act 2002.

e) Substantial Public Interest

Where you have a health issue and we are notified about that issue by you or by someone else, we may record this sensitive personal data where it is necessary for reasons of substantial public interest, to allow us to comply with the Equalities Act 2010 and make reasonable adjustment for you if required.

6. What do we do with your personal data?

We will use your information to consider your application for a loan with us and where your application is successful, for the subsequent administration and management of your loan. For example, we may use your personal data:

- to confirm your identity and other application details, such as your address and income;
- to prevent and detect crime, including fraud and money laundering;
- to comply with legal and regulatory obligations;
- to decide whether or not to give you a loan and the terms and conditions of your loan (please see section 7f below);
- to carry out financial (including credit) and insurance risk assessments and for risk reporting and risk management;
- to calculate your payments;
- to respond to requests from you enforcing your rights under data protection law (an explanation of these rights is set out at section 10) ("Data Subject Requests") that you may submit to us or via a third party;
- to recover debts;
- to understand if you have further financing requirements;

- to deal with queries relating to your loan;
- to communicate with you or third parties (see sections 7 and 8 below) about your loan;
- to improve our loan product and customer service experience;
- to improve our understanding of our customer base;
- to carry out staff training and quality assurance checks;
- to improve our processes;
- in an internal and secure testing environment, to improve our systems and test new products; and
- to send you marketing information (if we are permitted to do so).

7. How we use your personal data

As well as you providing us with personal data when you apply for and throughout the duration of your loan, in order to process your application and manage your loan we will also search your records at credit reference and fraud prevention agencies (“Agencies”) and share information with Agencies as set out below.

The identities of the Agencies, their role also as fraud prevention agencies, the data they hold, the ways in which they use and share personal data, data retention periods and your data protection rights with the Agencies are explained in more detail in the Credit Reference Agency Information Notice. A copy of this notice can be downloaded from www.equifax.co.uk/crain or www.experian.co.uk/crain

a. Receiving information from Agencies

The Agencies may supply us with your personal data including credit information, such as previous applications, identity checks, credit checks, the conduct of accounts in your and your financial associate’s name, any business accounts you have, fraud prevention information and public information such as County Court Judgments, bankruptcies and the Electoral Register. We may receive this information via a search we make whilst we are considering your application (an ‘Application Search’) and on an ongoing basis during your loan. A record of our Application Search will be made by the Agencies and seen by other lenders on any future searches made. A large number of applications and associated Application Searches within a short period of time could affect your ability to obtain credit.

If you are a director or partner in a small business, we may also carry out a check on your business and in doing so we may obtain your personal data from Agencies.

b. Receiving "associated records" from Agencies

Before entering into any agreement with you we may search your records at an Agency, which may be linked to records relating to your spouse or partner, or other persons with whom you have, or have had a joint finance agreement, or made a credit application (“Associate”). For the purpose of approving or rejecting this application you and any Associates may be treated as financially linked and your application will be assessed with reference to Associates’ records.

c. Sharing information with Agencies

We will add to your records with the Agencies details of any agreement with us, your loan, the payments you make under it and any arrears, default or failure to make payments and any change of name or address. In doing so, we will provide the Agencies with your personal data, including your account information. Account information given to Agencies remains on file for 6 years after the account is closed, whether settled by you or upon default.

These records will be shared by the Agencies with other organisations (such as lenders and fraud prevention agencies), who may access your information from other countries and may be used and searched by us and them to consider:

- (i) applications for credit and credit related services, such as insurance, for you and any Associates (please see above) or members of your household; and
- (ii) to trace debtors, recover debts, prevent or detect money laundering and fraud, to manage your account(s).

If you are a director or partner in a small business, we may also complete a check on your business and in doing so supply your personal data to Agencies.

d. Sharing information with Agencies in respect of Joint Applications

Where you are applying for a loan jointly with (an)other applicant(s), by making this application jointly (whether or not this joint application proceeds) Agencies may create an association between you and the other applicant(s), which will link your financial records and the Agency may treat you as Associates. Your Associate's information held by Agencies may be taken into account when a future search is made by us or another company, until you tell the Agencies that you are no longer financially linked, and the Agencies accept this.

e. Law Enforcement and Fraud Protection

It is important that you provide your broker or intermediary and us with accurate information. Before your broker or intermediary submits an application to us, it is important that you satisfy yourself that they have captured your information accurately and it matches the information you provided them.

The personal data we have collected from you will be shared with fraud prevention agencies ("FPAs") who will use it to prevent fraud and money-laundering and to verify your identity. If fraud is detected, you could be refused certain services, finance, or employment. Further details of how your information will be used by us and FPAs, and your data protection rights, can be downloaded from www.cifas.org.uk/privacy-notice.

If false or inaccurate information is provided and fraud is identified, details may be passed to the relevant law enforcement agency.

We, FPAs and law enforcement agencies may access and use the personal data that you submit to us to prevent fraud, for anti-money laundering or to verify your identity, for example, when:

- checking details on applications for credit and credit related or other facilities;
- managing credit and credit related accounts or facilities;
- recovering debt;
- checking details on proposals and claims for all types of insurance; and
- checking details of job applicants and employees.

f. Automated Decision-Making

We may use automated decision-making to carry out the following activities:

- to determine your financial situation and to make decisions about whether to accept your loan application, the products which you are applicable for and the terms of your loan (including the price);
- for account management purposes (e.g. to manage arrears or to contact you);
- to efficiently manage our loan book;
- to obtain and collate information from Agencies (in the manner set out in section 7a above); and
- to send you alerts and communications about your loan that may be appropriate for you and your circumstances.

Application decisions may be taken based on solely automated checks of information from Agencies and our records.

8. How we share your personal data

As well as passing information within our corporate group, we may pass your personal data to other third parties. We will not pass your personal data to any third party except where:

- you have been introduced to us through them, such as a broker or intermediary;
- they are our professional advisors such as valuers, accountants, surveyors, solicitors, LPA Receivers, debt collection agencies or other third parties assisting with any recovery action (such as utility companies);

- to credit reference and fraud prevention agencies;
- where required for a sale, reorganisation, transfer or other transaction relating to our business;
- we are responding to or assisting in the response to your submission of a Data Subject Request to us or a third party;

- in anonymised form as part of statistics or other aggregated data shared with third parties for the purposes of analysing our loan portfolio, managing the associated risks and developing risk management tools;

We will only share your information with third parties on a limited basis and, where appropriate, following due diligence and in accordance with our internal procedures.

9. Transferring information overseas

In providing your loan we may be required to transfer your personal data to third parties and organisations who hold data outside of the European Economic Area (EEA), for example some third party suppliers have back up or disaster recovery data centres that are located in multiple jurisdictions outside the EEA (for example, in the United States). This may mean that in certain limited circumstances personal data is transferred to countries which do not provide the same level of protection for personal data as the EEA.

Where your personal data is being transferred outside the EEA, we will ensure that appropriate safeguards are in place, such as the use of the EU Commission approved model contract clauses to protect your information in accordance with data protection laws.

10. Your rights

You have a number of rights under data protection laws in relation to the way we process your personal data. These are set out below. You may contact us using the details below to exercise any of these rights and we will respond to any request received from you within one month from the date of the request.
